FACE READING

WHY DO OUR FACES FASCINATE US SO?

Our longing to discover something about our own destiny is as old as humanity itself. So, it is not surprising that face reading is a hit at all types of parties and events.

CLIENT COMMENTS

"What a unique experience to watch peoples reactions as they had their face read. They were stunned by the accurate analysis you were able to give them in a moments glance. Count me in as one of your fans."

"Lin, you were fantastic last night. Your readings were the hit of my party, I was thoroughly impressed, and so were my guests."

"I loved offering my guest something they had never experienced before. As hostess I received the accolades, but really they should go to you. My friends have already asked for your contact info. Expect to be very busy."

"As you read my face I was astonished. thanks for the fun, laughs, and yes insights "

FACE READING

The human face is a living record and personality profile of its owner. Each facial feature, line, indent and crevice, out pictures our emotions, thinking style, work ethics, temperament, personal space requirements, communication and leadership styles, attitudes and character traits. Almost anything you want to know about a person is as plain as the nose on their face.

Many disciplines besides face reading give insight into personality. However, Face Reading differs from other studies in one outstanding respect: the results do not depend on outside data from the subject. This helps eliminate inaccuracy in the profile caused by an uncooperative subject. In Face Reading, the subject does not have to take a test, answer questions honestly, produce a handwriting sample, or provide any information whatsoever. If they have a face you can read it.

The ability to make a quick and accurate personality profile (face reading has been scientifically validated to 92% accuracy) is an invaluable tool and has applications in business, coaching, sales, management, team building, and human resources. In fact, face reading is an asset in anything that involves direct interaction or communication with other people.

THE HUMAN FACE TELLS ALL

Which of these people are the most emotional ?

Which one likes consistency and moderation?

Who needs to be in control and do things their way?

Which one likes close intimate relationships?

Who needs things neat and orderly?

FACE READING WILL AMAZE YOU!
